Cycle of Events

From Billy Mitchell
to Capt. Crommelin

Right after World War I a distinguished American Army officer—Gen. Billy Mitchell, by name—decided, on the basis of his and certain fellow officers' experiences, that the next war was going to be fought in the air.

There was furious disagreement on the part of the high brass, all of whom were land soldiers, drilled solely in the art of handling infantry, artillery, and land transport. Nor were the high Navy men any more enthusiastic about Mitchell's newfangled war planes.

Well, there were bombing tests in an effort to prove or disprove Mitchell's theory of air power, but prejudiced judges said the tests were inconclusive. Mitchell protested—so they threw him out of the armed services, and added a reprimand to his official record for good measure.

He died in official disgrace.

But there were other observers at Billy Mitchell's bombing tests, observers from officially "disarmed" Germany. They differed from the opinions of our own high brass. They thought the war plane had a future.

And Germany went on to almost whip the entire world—with an idea developed by Billy Mitchell and rejected by his American superiors.

Well, yesterday the cycle started to repeat itself. World II is over. Unification of the armed services is the order of the day, and is objected to by a certain naval hero—Capt. John G. Crommelin, by name—on grounds that land and air soldiers don't understand the value of the Navy and are scuttling it in favor of their own branches of the war machine.

For saying things like this, and for repeating them in the face of official warnings, Capt. Crommelin yesterday was put on furlough by the Navy—another phrase for the words "kicked out."

Half a generation ago the armed service brass and their political allies were wrong—and it nearly lost us a war.

Today America will reserve judgment on who's right and who's wrong.

After death Mitchell's name was cleared, and the record changed from one of censure to one of praise.

May fate deal more speedily with Capt. Crommelin—who's still alive.

Two Sought for Slaying of Sheriff

Presidio Tex., March 16 —(AP)—Mexican and U. S. officers continue a search on the wild mountainous country on both sides of the Rio Grande for two men wanted in the slaying of Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow.

Deputy Sheriff Mack Tarwater of Presidio said yesterday that one of the men "is a Mexican national and the other, also a Latin American, is believed to be a U. S. citizen."

Tarwater said it was the trail of the Mexican national which a posse found and followed Monday. The man, believed to have been handcuffed and carrying Morrow's pistol, apparently crossed the Rio Grande about nine miles above Presidio.

He was seen about Monday morning at a point about 20 miles west of Ojinaga, Mexican City, just across the border from here.

"This indicates he is heading into the wilder and rougher country to the west, toward Juarez," said Tarwater.

The deputy sheriff said no trace had been found of the second man. "It appears that they were separated, maybe right after the shooting," he said.

Morrow was fatally shot early Sunday morning on a lonely mountain road near here. He managed to get in his car but died after driving about a mile.

Tydings Sees No Justification for State Dept. Probe

Easton, Md., March 16 (AP)—Senator Tydings (D-Md.) said last night there was no justification for hysteria about possible Communist infiltration into the government.

He is chairman of a senate subcommittee that has gained a foothold in the state department.

During a speech at a meeting of the Talbot County Farm bureau he said:

"The fact that two persons have been arrested, tried and convicted should not make people think that the government in Washington is full of Communists even the state department."

He did not name the two persons who have been convicted recently.

Military Seeks Millions for Secret Work

Washington, March 16 —(AP)—Requests for about $70,000,000 worth of highly secret military installations—described by the armed forces as imperatively needed—will under new study on Capitol Hill today.

Military witnesses have told the house armed services committee that these projects should have "high priority." They are part of a $187,142,000 amendment to the defense department's $477,791,000 public works bill which the committee previously had under consideration.

(D-Ga) instructed the marines to submit two amendments for $27,476,000, bringing the grand total in requests for public works to $902,592,000.

The marine amendments are for $2,476,000 for living quarters at Quantico, Va., and $25,000,000 for a depot in the East, probably to be located at Albany, Ga.

The classified (secret) installation requests are very hush-hush but they indicate intensified activity in radar, special weapons, guided missiles, biological chemical warfare. Considerable attention is given to the defense of Alaska.

The largest single request is for the navy. The navy is asking $23,316,000 to develop naval facilities, including housing, at a secret location "outside the continental United States."

The army is requesting authorization for $8,000,000 to begin construction of a classified installation in the sixth army area, which has headquarters in San Francisco, Calif.

No details were given in the brief announcement made public except to say that an additional $2,500,000 will be required later to complete installation. The army described it as "of highest strategic importance."

The army also proposes to spend $1,000,000 on a secret installation in the fifth army area, for which Chicago is the headquarters.

The army is asking for a $10,000,000 installment on a proposed $21,500,000 chemical corps installation to be built at the isolated dugway proving ground in Utah.

The air force is seeking $7,382,900 for "classified facilities."

Out of this the recently established "air force security service" wants $5,802,900 to build a special administration and operations building.

Truman Signs Oleo Repeal Into a Law

Key West, Fla., March 16 —(AP)—President Truman today signed the bill to repeal the federal tax on oleomargarine.

It was Mr. Truman's first action after his arrival here for a vacation after a sea voyage from Washington.

Charles C. Ross, presidential secretary, said the signing of the bill was done at the "winter White House."

The measure was flown here by courier plane from Washington yesterday.

Under the new law all federal taxes on margarine are wiped out. But it does not interfere in any way with taxes or restrictions placed on oleomargarine by any state government.

The law does say that any restaurant selling yellow margarine must sell it in triangular pats, and the restaurant must post a notice saying margarine is sold there.

Court Martial to Air 'Big Mo' Incident

Norfolk, Va., March 16 —(AP)—General court martial were ordered today for the commanding officer, the operations officer and the navigator of the battleship Missouri as a result of the vessel's grounding in Chesapeake Bay, January 17.

The officers to be tried are Capt. William D. Brown, of Frostproof, Fla., the Big Mo's skipper; Comdr. John R. Millett, operations officer; and Lt. Comdr. Frank G. Morris, of New York navy yard.

The courts martial will be convened March 27 at the Norfolk naval base. The trials will begin at that time, naval spokesmen said, if the defendants are ready to proceed. All proceedings will be open to the public and the press.

The courts martial were ordered by Rear Adm. Allan E. Smith, commander of the cruiser force of the Atlantic fleet, after a review of the proceedings of the naval court of inquiry which investigated the grounding.

Touchy Ouachita Off on Its 4th High Binge

Camden, March 14 —(AP)—The touchy Ouachita river is off on its fourth high water binge since the first of the year.

The turbulent stream topped the 30-foot mark here today and continued to rise. It is expected to go to 32 feet, six feet above flood level, by the end of the week.

Numerous lowlying farms along the winding stream have been inundated by spreading flood waters. Additional rains in the upper reaches of the Ouachita may send the stream higher.

The high water may cause damage to spring crops. Planting crops has been slowed down by other risks of the river this year.

Recall of U. S. Indian Envoy Significant

Washington, March 15 —(AP)—The state department's sudden summoning of John S. Service from India for a review of his loyalty record was termed "a very significant and startling development" by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) today.

The department's decision yesterday came after Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) had accused Service, American consul at Calcutta, of having Communist affiliations.

McCarthy made his charges before a senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating his contentions that the state department harbors Communists and Communist sympathizers.

Hickenlooper, a member of the committee, told reporters it seems strange to him that the department first said it knew nothing about one of McCarthy's accusations dealing with Service, and then "apparently reversed its field."

The Iowa lawmaker was referring to McCarthy's testimony that Service had been cleared by the department's own loyalty board, but that a U. S. civil service loyalty board filed his case back and recommended that the same department board be barred from judging the case again.

Shortly after McCarthy testified the department said it had not received any such information or request from the review board.

In announcing yesterday that Service is being brought home, the department said the action was taken on recommendation of the civil service review board. But it said the board's request was not received until 3:50 p. m. EST, Tuesday, about five hours after McCarthy testified.

Billions Are Piling Into Treasury

Washington, March 16 —(AP)—The federal government jingled several billion dollars in fresh spending money today as late check-lades returns trickled in from tax payers across the nation.

One commentary on what yesterday's income tax day meant to most people was provided unwittingly by a late-payer who, in the line at the bureau of internal revenue in Washington, contained several of the shirts off his back.

Noting that even though billions richer, the government still is in the red, Republicans in congress grasped at the chance to belabor the Truman administration and its financial policies. Democrats replied with reminiscences of the depression years.

In Detroit, what may have been the day's biggest tax payment—a $114,373,394 quarterly installment from General Motors Corp.—showed up in the same mail with what certainly was one of the smallest.

And in a long list of cities the day marked the last chance the government had to catch up with 1949 tax fraud cases involving an estimated $15,000,000. At midnight last night, the seven-year statute of limitations went into effect, closing the books on any new action against those who evaded taxes during that war year of high profits.

Although income taxes had the spotlight everywhere else, on Capitol Hill the emphasis was on excise levies.

Rep. Rich (R-Pa.) observed that the government charges taxes on such items as engagement rings and baby oil, and is thus acting like "a sorcerer that is opposed to romance, love and other things that happen in the spring."

That drew laughter from other Republicans.

Rep. Price (D-Ill.) shot back that "in Republican days the average American was more acquainted with the referee in bankruptcy than with the tax collector."

Democrats applauded. Rep. Hill (R-Colo.) proposed March 15 as a day of national mourning, because, he said, "as long as we have a wild spender in the White House a balanced budget is dead."

Acheson Sends Warning to Reds in China

Berkeley, Calif., March 16 —(AP)—Fresh from a major San Francisco speech in which he raised a hand in warning to Communist China, Secretary of State Dean Acheson came here today to discuss "tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Acheson, in his second important foreign policy address in northern California in two days, was to address the conference on international cooperation for world economic development at the University of California.

Before a Commonwealth club audience of 2,000 in San Francisco yesterday, Acheson warned leaders of Red China not to stir up trouble outside of China's borders.

"As old friends, we say to the Chinese people that we fully understand that their present unhappy status within the orbit of the Soviet Union is not the result of any choice on their own part, but has been forced upon them," the secretary said in a speech bearing the approval of President Truman.

Harris Pleased Over New Cotton Bill

Washington, March 16 —(AP)—Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) one of the first congressmen to demand changes in the cotton acreage allotment act, expressed pleasure today over the compromise bill now pending.

House and senate conferees, after some wrangling over different versions, finally agreed on a bill with these provisions:

No 1950 cotton allotment shall be cut below the larger of (a) 65 per cent of the average acreage planted to cotton or war crops in 1946, 1947 and 1948, or (b) 45 per cent of the highest acreage in any one of the three years, and,

Any allotment increase as provided above shall not exceed 40 per cent of the total number of acres under cultivation in the farm.

"It is a pretty good bill," Harris told a reporter. "It will mean a lot to my district, where the county percentage factor in every county is below 40 per cent. It will be a tremendous help to the growers."

Its an Established Fact That You Can Become a Celebrity With Money or Publicity

By HAL BOYLE
New York, —(AP)—The frosted door pane bore the sign: "The Celebrity Stable—Celebrities Bought, Sold, Rented and Exchanged."

Inside the office with his feet on his desk sat the famous Broadway agent and celebrity manufacturer, Wheeler ("Ten Per Cent") Topchop.

Out for his usual cut, Wheeler was writing to his mother. The letter warned her that if she didn't start giving him ten per cent of her monthly relief check he would switch to the government that she was secretly buying a television set on the installment plan.

The door opened and in strode a tall, rawboned youth carrying a straw suitcase.

"I'm Elmer Compone from Pea Hollow, Tenn.," he said shyly. "I'm tired of being a nobody. I want to be famous."

"My boy, you have come to the right place," said Wheeler. "Take off your shoes and rest your feet."

But the agent looked disconcerted when Elmer did sit down, take off his shoes, wriggle his toes and say, "thanks, I've had 'em on all morning."

"The public is crying for new celebrities," said Wheeler, going into his pitch. "But there are three kinds of celebrities—unknown, self-known and well-known."

"To be a well-known celebrity you have to be able to do something special or you have to have something—money."

When Elmer confessed all he had left was $23.45—including a $10 Confederate bill—Wheeler looked depressed. He asked if there was anything Elmer could do. Young Compone scratched his head and finally allowed:

"Well, I can put two needles in my mouth and knit a baby sock in 15 minutes. But everybody in Pea Hollow already knows that."

"But the world doesn't," exclaimed the agent excitedly. "Son, that's a wonderful stunt. You're a natural celebrity."

Wheeler whipped out a contract and Elmer wet his lips and put his "X" to it proudly. In the next two weeks Compone was the guest star on 15 different programs.

Then he got his own show. Dressed in a pair of satin overalls,

Army Fears Gas War in the Future

Washington, March 16 —(AP)—The U. S. army fears that poison gas and disease germs may be used against this country in any future war.

Because of this apprehension, the army is intensifying its offensive and defensive biological and chemical warfare techniques.

It is part of what the army refers to as "classified warfare"—meaning very secret. Still, hints as to the progress being made and the importance attached to the hushhush subjects crop up public-ly now and then.

The Army has just asked congress for a $10,000,000 start on a proposed $21,510,000 chemical corps installation to be built at the isolated Dugway proving ground in Utah.

For Camp Detrick, Md., where biological warfare research is carried on, the army is now seeking in the neighborhood of $6,000,000. This is a sizeable increase over the $3,313,000 it sought last year for expansion at Camp Detrick.

The army chemical corps is asking congress for $9,977,000 for research and development.

Maj. Gen. A. C. McAuliffe, chief of the chemical corps, recently told the house military appropriations subcommittee that "today certain foreign countries are actively investigating and preparing for chemical and biological war."

He would start knitting the baby sock with the needles in his teeth while a 77-piece band eared silk hillbilly costumes played in the background. In the finale, as he knitted the toe, Elmer madewise-cracks about his home town from one side of his mouth and played "Dixie" on a harmonica in the other side.

Elmer was quoted everywhere. He crossed three breakfast foods, four kinds of cigars and three brand of cigarettes and seriously considered a train trip to smoke. Three million women bought "Knit With Elmer" kits. He was hailed as the greatest talent of his time.

In a year he earned $450,000. But Wheeler took ten per cent as his agent, ten per cent as his business manager, ten per cent as his personal secretary, ten per cent as his publicity representative, and ten per cent for writing his gags, which he copied from a 1941 file of "College Humor."

Then Wheeler took another ten per cent just because nobody was looking.

All this left Elmer owing Uncle Sam about $37,000. One morning, wearing a bright tan polo coat and dark sunglasses, Compone dropped in on his agent to borrow his usual $5 daily allowance. Wheeler gave him the $5 and said:

"This ends it, Elmer. You're done—washed up."

"Wh—wh—what do you mean?" stammered Compone.

"Your sponsor has cancelled out. You're a has-been. People are tired of seeing you knit with your teeth. They think it's just a trick."

The agent then pulled out a letter and said:

"Ever hear of Otis Hogshead from Pea Hollow, Tenn?"

"Sure, I know Cousin Otis," said Elmer.

"Can he really yodel a hillbilly song at the same time he's swallowing a basketball?"

"Course he can," said Elmer. "But everybody in our county is worn out from watching him doing it."

"The rest of the world isn't—yet," said Wheeler. "By the way, I'll give you $10 for that polo coat."

"What for?" asked Elmer, peeling it off.

"Your Cousin Otis—I don't want him to look like a bum."

Finance Co. Files Suit to Collect $37,526.05 From Two Local Firms

Committee Acts to Cut Spending

Washington, March 6 —(AP)—The house appropriations committee has tentatively worked out a $1,200,000,000 cut in President Truman's spending proposals for the 12 months beginning next July 1.

The committee has not formally taken final action, but it was learned a "central committee" has recommended the cut.

The committee is working on an omnibus bill embracing items for which Mr. Truman asked $9,326,000,000.

Members of the committee said these have been trimmed to roughly $29113,000,000.

The President's overall budget requests for the fiscal year starting next July 1 were $42,439,000,000. This included approximately $3,000,000,000 for the army.

The foreign-aid money is not included because separate legislation legalizing it has not cleared congress. The so-called permanent appropriations are not subject to cuts. They include such things as interest on the public debt.

The "central committee" recommendations will be presented to him full committee next Monday. The following week the omnibus bill is scheduled to go before the house for debate. It will be the first congress has wrapped up all department in modern history that congressional funds in a single bill.

The appropriations group has recommended no huge cuts in any departmental funds, although a sizeable percentage reduction has been filed in Hempstead Circuit Court.

Miss Coplon Free on Bail of $40,000

New York, March 16 —(AP)—Judith Coplon was free on $40,000 bail today pending appeal of her spy conspiracy conviction.

But the was was not yet clear for her to cross the East river from Manhattan to her family's home in Brooklyn.

The court order fixing bail, under which she was released late yesterday, forbade her to leave the federal southern district of New York, which does not include Brooklyn.

She was reported to have spent the night with friends in Manhattan. Her lawyer was to apply today for permission for her to go to Brooklyn.

Miss Coplon, 28-year-old former department of justice employee, was charged with espionage.

That was the day she and Valentin A. Gubitchev, 33-year-old Russian engineer, were convicted of espionage. Each drew a 15-year prison term.

Gubitchev, still in jail, is scheduled to receive a suspended sentence next Monday and to be put on a boat en route home to Russia. The government recommended that procedure as a move to forestall possible reprisals against Americans in Russia and her state-literate nations.

Miss Coplon's brother, Bertram, posted her $40,000 bail, including $20,000 cash.

Army Blamed for Punishment of Crommelin

Washington, March 16 —(AP)—The navy has decided to punish Capt. John G. Crommelin, persistent critic of Pentagon policies, for furloughing him indefinitely half-pay instead of trying him in a court martial.

The action amounts to his voluntary retirement at the age of 47, and Crommelin's blame for the army and air force general staffs. He has been blaming them all for what he called a "crippling" weakening of the navy in the air force-navy unification status.

Secretary of the Navy Matthew announced the punishment last night, effective April 1. A navy spokesman said it was for "continued actions prejudicial to the service."

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, sent orders to Crommelin on Feb. 21 to stop publicly criticizing the organization or officials of the defense department or any officer or group of officers.

In speeches and interviews since then, the navy flier continued to lead the "pruettized general staff" dead contending that the American joint chiefs of staff system leans toward the overall military command staff of Germany.

Crommelin said also in an interview on March 7 that the army and the air force were "trying to kill the marine corps."

More than 20 years of navy service, plus credit for combat decorations, make the flier eligible for retirement at three-quarters pay if he prefers to take that route.

But Crommelin ruled out retirement in a press conference here in San Francisco after the navy announced the furlough order.

"I have no intention of quitting or retiring from the navy," he said.

Crommelin denied that he been seeking a court martial, which might have claimed public attention for his charges.

"My recent orders were not to be publicly critical of the defense establishment or individual," he said. "If they told me to be silent, I would have been silent. As to being critical that is just a matter of how to define it."

Crommelin plans to go home at Montgomery, Ala., where the furlough order becomes effective. But he said he still has several speaking engagements in the San Francisco area, and after he has complied with the turn home order, his time will be his own.

"I consider the people a court last resort," the flier said. "I am becoming aware of the situation that I am warning about. They are beginning to do something about it."

Crommelin was responsible much as anyone, for the investigation conducted by a house subcommittee last fall into charges that navy power is being cut drastically and that too much emphasis is being given to the air force B-36 intercontinental bomber.

First Showing of Minstrel Tonight

The Kiwanis club Minstrel crew held dress rehearsal last night and the show promises to be the best ever held here according to Director Emmet Thompson and a few others who were fortunate to get in on the sneak preview.

The first show will be held tonight in the high school auditorium and the final performance will be held Friday night.

It was also announced that the Youth Center, for which the show is being staged will not be open Friday night so members can attend the show. The Center will open Saturday as usual.

The queen contestants have done a wonderful job in the ticket sales department, and the packed houses are assured for all performances. The contestants are ably assisted by the Key club members.

There is an element of mystery in the show—who are the end men? You can guess tonight by attending the first performance at the high school.

Nash Pension Arranged Without Strike

Detroit, March 16 — (AP) — A pension plan won by the CIO United Auto Workers from Nash-Kelvinator Corp. without a strike fanned hopes in labor circles here today of an early break in the Chrysler strike.

The UAW-CIO and four smaller unions reached an agreement last night with Nash. It gave the UAW everything the union has been demanding in its 51-day old walkout at Chrysler.

Reports from Washington of federal concern over the Chrysler strike also raised hopes here there would be more rapid progress in negotiations, to get 80,000 Chrysler employees back on the job.

Features of the Nash settlement include, the UAW announced, "a fully founded pension plan and an 10 cents an hour pattern already established in a substantial section of the automobile industry."

The Nash plan provides workers $100 a month pensions, including social security benefits, to those retiring at 65 with 25 years of service. New features include payment by Nash of fixed amount, seven cents — into a fund with the amount not affected by future social security fluctuations, and no automatic compulsory retirement age. The union has a voice in administering pensions.

Advises All Americans to Keep Informed

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 16 — (AP) — Evidence keeps bobbing up to show that a lot of Americans don't keep themselves informed.

This is a weight around the necks of the rest of the people who want a better democracy. It plays into the hands of those who don't.

In a speech last night Gordon Dean, a member of the atomic energy commission, spoke of a survey made by expert public-relations men.

He said the survey, made in December, three months after President Truman announced an atomic explosion in Russia, showed 26 per cent of the polled people hadn't heard of it.

This brings up the old question: How do you get a good democracy?

The ideal democracy is one in which everyone is completely informed on every issue and everyone of voting age votes directly on every issue and on every law that's proposed.

In such an ideal democracy there'd be no congress. A congress like ours would be unnecessary if everyone could vote directly on every issue.

But our society is not the ideal democracy. It can't be. It's too complex, with all the different groups dependent on one another for production of clothes, food, light, housing and so on.

Producing those different things and earning a living keep most people too busy to be completely informed on every issue and to vote on every one. So we elect a congress to represent us and act for us.

This doesn't mean we give the 531 members of congress a blank check to do anything they please for us, or to us. It doesn't mean that, having elected a congress, we ourselves stop thinking and yield up all control over us to congress.

We reserve the right to tell our congressmen what we feel on the issues that arise; to put pressure on them to vote the way we think they should, and to change our congressmen when we no longer believe he represents our views.

But to do those things intelligently, so that we will have a congress acting most responsibly to the will of the people, means we have a responsibility and obligation to be informed on as many issues as possible.

This is simple common sense and to the selfish interest of everyone since, in the end, a congress most responsive to the will of the people can produce the kind of laws most near to everyone's desire.

And it is not unselfish in another way: An informed public opinion acting on congress, is the best safeguard against a special selfish interest working against the general welfare.

Granted this, then everyone — if for no other reason than his own self-interest — has an obligation to be as well-informed as possible in as wide a field as possible, because congress cuts across many fields.

How do they get well-informed? By reading newspapers, magazines, books, listening to the radio, watching television, discussing events.

In turn that imposes, say, on newspapers and radios an obligation of doing a good job of informing their readers and listeners. This is so, since it's to their own self-interest, or should be, to help create an intelligently-run democracy.

How well these sources of information do their job will vary, of course, from paper to paper, from radio to radio. But — no matter how well the information is pumped out, there'd still be people, and probably plenty of them, who wouldn't read or listen.

Since they can't be forced to be informed they'll remain a gap and drawback in any efforts the rest of the population makes toward shaping the best possible democracy in our time.

Why a gap and a drawback? If most of the people are more or

Says Isolation Not Needed in Polio Treatment

Little Rock, March 16 — (AP) — A University of Arkansas medical school expert thinks elaborate isolation facilities aren't needed in treatment of polio.

Dr. William A. Reilly, chairman of the school's department of pediatrics, told a post-graduate course here yesterday that by the time polio can be diagnosed as such, much of the danger of contagion has passed.

Dr. Reilly suggested that patients be treated in their own communities rather than being sent to distant centers.

The speaker said he expected another polio epidemic in Arkansas next summer, but didn't believe it would be as serious as that of last year when there were nearly 1,000 cases and nearly 80 deaths.

GIs Plead Not Guilty to Helping Red Kidnapers

Salzburg, Austria, March 15 — (AP) — Two American soldiers accused of acting as agents of a Soviet kidnapping ring pleaded innocent today before a court martial.

Sergeant John Franky of New York City and Corporal Karl Abel of Bolivar, Mo., are jointly accused of common law kidnapping, false imprisonment, private correspondence with a foreign power and misuse of an army vehicle.

Abel is also charged with the theft of an army radio transmitter. If found guilty, the soldiers can be sentenced to life imprisonment.

According to an official army statement, Abel made contact with a Russian-directed kidnapping ring last September when he tried to sell an army radio transmitter on the Vienna black market.

He and Franky were subsequently hired to abduct Oswald Eder from his home in the British sector of Vienna and turn him over to Soviet agents outside the city. The alleged kidnapping took place last Nov. 11. The men said they were paid 7,000 Austrian schillings (about $250).

They reportedly had no motive except the money.

less informed, isn't it all right if the rest stay uninformed and just rock along? No.

If the uninformed let the others make decisions for them — such as electing the men who make the laws and even influencing law-making — they're letting more and more power be concentrated in fewer hands. And that, instead of moving toward the ideal democracy, would be the opposite.

And if the uninformed take part in the government — say by electing congressmen — they are in a position to judge the issues or the worth of the congressmen. This can lead to irresponsible lawmaking or to the presence in congress of men who might work against the general welfare as determined by the people who took the trouble to inform themselves.

Plans Formed for Crackdown on Gambling

Washington, March 16 — (AP) — A rough draft of plans for a joint local, state and federal crackdown on big-time gambling began to take shape today.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore called together his newly appointed legislative committee of the attorney general's conference on law enforcement for a two-day closed session at the justice department.

The get-together is expected to outline the area of cooperation in which law enforcement officers generally might function to curb crime.

The enforcement conference, assembled here last month by Attorney General McGrath, indicated general agreement on a joint action program. It also indicated that first action should be directed against curbing organized gambling, which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has described as the "most egg" of the underworld.

Mayor D'Alesandro was designated by the conference to head a legislative committee to bring in recommendations for new laws covering the crime and gambling-regulation field.

The conference specifically directed the committee to look into the possibility of congressional acts. Such federal laws might forbid the use of interstate communications for gambling purposes and to prohibit interstate shipment of Quigg Newton of Denver.

$2,800,000 Fire in Kansas City Rubber Plant

Kansas City, March 16 (P) — About 80,000 rubber tires and 70,000 inner tubes were destroyed in a warehouse fire that caused damage estimated at more than $2,800,000 in north Kansas City late yesterday.

The blaze raged out of control for hours. The rubber burned all night and firemen expected it to last until about noon today.

The intense heat in the four-story Goodyear Tire and Rubber company warehouse set fire to the slot machines and other gambling devices.

D'Alesandro prepared to organize the work by naming a subcommittee on federal legislation headed by Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh; a subcommittee on state laws, with Attorney General Alan H. Bible of Nevada as chairman; a subcommittee on municipal legislation, over which corporation Counsel John P. McGrath of New York city will preside, and a subcommittee on cooperation which will be organized by Mayor Fletcher Brown of Los Angeles, Calif.

The legislative groups are scheduled to make a specific report, including recommendations, by April 15. The objective is to obtain action on any federal legislation recommended at the current session of congress. The executive committee to which the report is to be made is headed by Mayor Quigg Newton of Denver.

FORE AND AFT — a Beauty and a Buy

It's lithe, long and lovely—and it calls not just for one look, but for two.

See how this sleek Sedan looks coming down the road—bold grillwork shining, broad bonnet purring with power, and the wide, curving, unbroken sweep of a one-piece windshield giving you horizon-wide outlook.

Reds Charge France a U.S. Satellite

Paris, March 15 — (AP)—Communist deputies, defeated in their attempt to delay debate on American arms aid, declared today that the Atlantic defense pact had made France a mere satellite of the United States.

Non-Communists last night defeated overwhelmingly a Communist motion to halt the discussion until the national assembly can consider proposals to ban armaments and atomic weapons. The vote was 404 to 179, with only the Communists and their sympathizers in favor of the motion.

In a calm session devoid of the violence and fistcluffs which marked sessions last week, Communist Deputy Pierre Cot said: "There's a lot of talk about satellites. Well, we are just that. We are a protected country."

Cot said France had been reduced to the role of an "atomic cushion" in any future European war. He asserted the U. S. intends to let this country do all the fighting.

Housing Bill Now Up to the House

Washington, March 16 — (AP)—A bitter senate defeat left the fate of President Truman's middle-income housing program squarely in the hands of the house today.

The senate chopped the entire program out of a catch-all housing bill late yesterday on a tight 38 to 57 vote. Its senate backers promptly began rooting for a house victory which might give them another chance.

"If that happens," said Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), "we will fight it out in the senate again. We need only change three votes — or get some more Democratic senators — to win."

A combination of 30 Republicans and 13 Democrats, including Fulbright and McClellan of Arkansas, mostly from the south, administered the death blow in the senate.

Frantic last-minute efforts by Senator Maybank (D-SC) to peg interest rates at 4 per cent, instead of a lower figure, failed to pick up enough votes for victory.

The rest of the bill, carrying more than $2,000,000,000 in government loans and mortgage insurance for various other programs, was approved.

Sparkman pointed out that the house banking committee had allowed the full $2,000,000,000 of government credit asked for cooperatives and non-profit organizations to build housing for families with incomes of from $2,400 to $4,700 a year. The loans could run for as long as 60 years with interest expected to be about 3 per cent.

Senate sponsors had trimmed the amount in half and tightened up other provisions in their efforts to push it through there.

the year ending March 31. Of this amount more than half was demanded by the national health service headed by the fiery left-winger in the Labor party, Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan.

Sir Stafford, defending the government, hinted that the health service might even be cut in the future. He said: "We must bring expenditure on health into proper proportion with food subsidies, education and all the other matters that vitally concern the safety and happiness of our people."

The Socialists approached this test of power with a greater show of confidence, having weathered two other parliamentary attacks within six days. Defeat on any one of the three challenges would have forced the government, with its bare lead of six seats in commons, to resign and make way for new British national elections.

Laborites Come Through Third Time

London, March 15 — (AP)—Britain's Labor government last night beat a third Conservative attempt in parliament to upset the Socialist regime. The Tories unsuccessfully attacked Laborite spending policies.

The motion of censure by opposition leader Winston Churchill was defeated 308 to 288, giving the Laborites a winning margin of 19.

The Conservative attack was indirectly aimed at Laborite handling of the nation's vast health scheme, leaders of which had asked for extra appropriations over the amounts of their 1949-1950 budget.

But before the vote was taken Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons a halt would be called to expansion of the national health service. He also warned other departments to adhere to their budgets.

Various government departments had asked for an extra 148,402,385 pounds ($415,528,622) for

THE STORY: After Azalea Palmer found her father, Wendell Palmer, murdered at his home, she took the young detective Paul Moody, Azalea's fiancé, into custody and charged him with the murder. Azalea, refusing to believe Paul's guilt, asked private detective Martin Queripel to clear her father's name. Queripel, after a long investigation, found that Paul was innocent and that the real murderer was a man named Harry Hodges. Queripel then turned the case over to the police, and Paul and Azalea were reunited.

This caught Queripel out of his most unusual humor of gallantry. While his blushes subsided, he tried to get back to business. He said, with more rebuke to himself than to Azalea:

"You have retained a good lawyer, of course."

"No," she said. "My father's lawyer is big, pompous old ex-Judge Colburn, the corporation lawyer. I begged him to save Paul, but he believes him guilty and said that he could hardly do anything for the murderer of his own client, my father."

"The court set Paul's bail at $25,000. I implored Judge Colburn to let me put up the money, but he said that the will hadn't been probated yet. He's the executor, but he wouldn't advance the money, and so poor Paul has to stay in jail. It's driving me insane."

"That old dodo of a Judge Colburn dared to rebuke me. He said, 'Instead of trying to save this fellow you're infatuated with, oughtn't you to be mourning for your poor father?'"

"I struck back at him: 'You let me mourn my father my own way. I loved him. He loved me. He hated Paul, but that was because he didn't want to let anybody take me out of his lonely life. Some horrible person killed my father for some mysterious reason. I'll keep on trying till he is found and my father's death avenged.'"

"Judge Colburn answered: 'You'll regret this my child.' And I said 'Somebody else will regret it more, if there's any real justice in the world.'"

"I'll ask no other fee," said Queripel, glowing at the prospect. But big Timothy O'Hea, Queripel's assistant, who had been listening at the door to as much of Azalea's words as he could overhear, broke into the room with:

"Here! Here! What goes on here? How are you going to pay me wages out of kisses? And what would my Nora say if I brought her home my share of this little lady's—er—oscarlations?"

her back to the harsh realities, but he said:

"Still, my dear, the only way to use the law or escape it, is by way of a lawyer. Had you thought of engaging Harry Hodges to defend Paul Moody?"

She nodded. "Judge Colburn advised him; but I said that hiring him would be the same as pleading guilty and trying to squirm out. Harry Hodges is famous for getting killers acquitted; but Paul Moody isn't a killer."

By this time Queripel was so enlisted in her cause, so determined to save Paul Moody for her sweet wild sake, that he was already a partner of hers in a conspiracy to defeat the police, if not justice itself.

"After some thought, he said: 'I think I know just the man you need. He's young; he's brilliant; he knows the law, its loopholes and its knots. His name is Harley Kenyon. He's a fighter. And he needs the money and the practice.'"

"Nice name," said Azalea, with a womanly logic of instant decision. "Please engage him, and tell him the situation. I'll pay his fee, whatever it is."

QUERIPEL, still the gallant, and hardly recognizing himself in this new mood, decided that, if Harley Kenyon once looked into those diamonds behind Azalea's eyelashes, he would turn the world upside down to get her heart's desire—unless, perhaps, the young lawyer should decide to get Moody out of the way and take Azalea herself for his fee. He said:

"I think I'd better let you talk to him yourself. I'll see if I can get him to come here right now. His office is in this building."

He dialed Kenyon's telephone and caught the young lawyer "just dashing out to an important appointment."

Azalea heard Queripel say: "Break that appointment. Come here at once. It's a matter of life and death."

He put down the receiver and smiled at Azalea.

"He's half way here by now."

Reuther Asked to Talk Over Auto Strike

Washington, March 15 —(AP)—Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching invited labor leader Walter Reuther today to discuss the auto workers' strike at the Chrysler Corp. The bid indicated mounting government concern over the long dead-lock.

The strike began Jan. 25 over the union's demand for a 10 cent hourly allocation per worker to cover $100 monthly pensions or a wage increase. The company refused to earmark any pension amount for each employee, and the 90,000 production workers walked out. The company also balked at giving the union a voice in administering the pension fund.

Reuther, here for congressional testimony on social security as president of the CIO-United Auto Workers, was expected to meet with Ching sometime during the day.

There have been indications since the Chrysler task force began, those close to the negotiations report, that Reuther may boost his demands as time for the opening of his contract with General Motors expires May 29.

Reuther already has stated that the UAW wants a nine cent hourly wage boost and pensions of $125 a month for the more than 200,000 members in GM plants.

The Chrysler strike may drift on for weeks, the government fears, if that is Reuther's strategy. Strike assessments of $1 a week for 12 weeks from UAW members in other auto plants are yielding $700,000 a week for a huge strike kitty, it was reported in Detroit.

Meanwhile, the company is falling far behind its General Motors competition in production.

Federal conciliators have been working steadily since before the strike began and others will reinforce them in coming weeks, Ching indicated. He is the chief of the federal mediation and conciliation service.

President Feels Fine on Vacation

Aboard The U. S. S. William C. Lawe, March 15 —(AP)—Vacationing President Truman felt fine today and figured rough ocean going and seasickness may have their good points after all. They make a man really appreciate good weather.

Presidential Secretary Charles C. Ross said as much when he talked with reporters by radiotelephone from the White House Yacht Williamsburg carrying Mr. Truman and his aides to Key West, Fla.

Ross quoted the President as saying the weather was so nice and he felt so good it was "well worthwhile" to go through the miserable spell of seasickness he and others of his party suffered early in the week.

Newsman soon saw for themselves that Mr. Truman was back in fine fettle.

The President appeared in high spirits as he waved a new button-down white cap with a long visor at reporters and photographers aboard this destroyer escort as it pulled near the Williamsburg.

Traffic Accidents Cost Lives of 26 in February

Little Rock, March 15 —(AP)—Twenty-six persons died in traffic mishaps on Arkansas highways and streets during February.

That was the report today from the Arkansas State Police. A total of 136 persons was injured in the 234 accidents investigated last month.

State Police Director Herman Lindsey said 35 persons died in traffic crashes during the same period in 1949. Highway fatalities in Arkansas for the first two months of this year totaled 49. The death toll during the corresponding period last year was 65.

Cotton Ginners Fear for Their Business

Memphis, Tenn., March 15.—An official of the National Cotton Ginners association fears the cotton acreage control law may cut 1950's planting so low some ginners would have to go out of business.

Hornace H. Hayden of Oklahoma City, executive vice president, told the association's annual convention that many farmers allotted cotton acreage under the present plan do not intend to plant.

The association sent a telegram to Sen. Elmer Thomas, chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, backing a move to in-

DOROTHY DIX Homesick Wife

Dear Miss Dix: My husband would have had to decline a promotion in business if I had refused to leave my old home and come to this city where we now are, but we have been here for more than a year and we still have not met a soul. He is out of town except for the week-ends and I am very lonely and cannot go out on account of baby, who is 2 years old. This is affecting my nerves and although I have fought with all my might to keep them from getting too bad, still I have got to the place where I just can't seem to put in the time when my husband is away. Sometimes I feel that I will have to ask to go back home, but being very much in love with him and knowing that it will hurt him if we have to do this, I am anxious to stay here if it is possible. The doctor tells me that I will not get any better as long as I am unable to get out and have some excitement. What do you think I should do?

Then go to work to get acquainted with people. If you have lived a whole year in a city in your own country and haven't met a soul, it is your own fault. You must bring yourself to other people's attention.

The best way to do this for a woman is to take an active part in church and club and charitable work. Join some church. All of them have social organizations to take care of just such cases as yours. Join some woman's club where you will be thrown in contact with other women. Join some hospital guild or some social service society. They are all eager for new members and more workers. And don't begrudge spending money for a baby-sitter; you need to get out of the house.

Don't give in to your homesickness. Fight it out.

Answer: Stay on and fight it out. Don't let your nerves conquer you and make you turn quitter and ruin your husband's prospects in business. Brace up and snap out of the morbid state you have got into. You can do it if you will.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband will not co-operate with me in the training of our children. Time and again when I tried to correct them he has taken the children's part in their absence and censured me. I have talked to him about this and tried to make him see that I can have no authority over the youngsters unless he backs me up, but it does no good. What shall I do?

Answer: "A house divided against itself shall fall," says the Bible, and this great truth was never more forcibly illustrated than it is in the case of the families where the mother and father have pulled against each other and each nullified the other's effort to being up the children properly. For it does not take the smart youngsters long to find out that they can play mother against father and so escape all discipline and do as they please.

crease acreage allotments. The organization ended its annual two-day meeting today after hearing committee reports. W. O. Fortenberry of Lubbock, Texas, presided at the opening session in the absence of John W. Mann n.l. Marianna, Ark., president, unable to attend because of illness.

It is a strange thing that intelligent men and women are so blinded by parental love that they cannot see this and realize what they are doing when each destroys their children's respect for the others. For the time comes when the girls need a mother's wisdom to guide them, but they will not heed her if their father has taught them to think her a moron who belongs to a moss-grown generation. And the day comes when the boys need a father's authority over them, but he has no influences with them if their mother has taught them to defy him and has killed their respect for him.

Rearing children is a two-handed job and it takes the combined efforts of both mother and father working together, doing the most perfect teamwork, to turn out the kind of youngsters who are a credit to their parents.

of 60. Have a good, saving wife and have accumulated quite a bit of property with her help and economy. But here is the trouble: I have fallen in love with a beautiful young widow about 20 years old. I would be so happy with a nice little young bride. Would you advise me to marry this girl? Or should I continue a dull existence with my old wife?

Answer: If you hadn't taken entire leave of your sense you would know that the only reason she is willing to marry you is for your money.

And if you desire to justify your right to sign yourself "obody's Fool," you will certainly stick to the old wife, who has been your friend and help meet for so many years. For of all the jokers in the world the greatest is the old man who marries a girl young enough to be his granddaughter. Nothing ever comes of it but disillusion and disappointment and bitter regret, with the additional mortification of being brought to realize that he has let himself be outsmarted by a girl child and made himself a laughing stock for all who know him.

Ten Reasons WHY YOUR BEST BUY IS NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE

- 1. Natural. Chilean Nitrate is the only natural nitrate in the world.
- 2. Nitrate Nitrogen. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate.
- 3. Sodium. Chilean Nitrate contains sodium equivalent to about 35% sodium oxide (Na<sub>2</sub>O). This acts like potash (K<sub>2</sub>O) and helps to make the phosphate in the soil more available.
- 4. Iodine. Chilean Nitrate contains iodine to help meet the needs of plants, animals, and human beings.
- 5. Other Plant Food Elements. Chilean Nitrate contains small quantities of other elements that contribute to strong, healthy plant growth, such as manganese, potassium, magnesium, boron, calcium, iron, sulphur, copper and zinc.
- 6. Ideal Condition. Chilean Nitrate comes in free-flowing pellets—easy to handle and to apply in any distributor.
- 7. Quick Acting. Chilean Nitrate is immediately and completely available.
- 8. Anti-Acid. Chilean Nitrate helps keep the soil sweet.
- 9. Time-Tested. Chilean Nitrate has been proved by more than 100 years of research and practical farm experience.
- 10. Doubly Profitable—Economic. Chilean Nitrate improves the quality of crops as well as the yield. Consistently excellent effect of heavy applications year after year upon crop and soil alike makes it an outstandingly profitable and economical nitrate for every need and purpose.

"THEY'S ONLY ONE NATCHEL SODA!"

"Just being natchel makes Chilean soda different. Lot of farmers says it's because the nitrogen is all nitrate, and that's how plants like it best. Lot of 'em figure the soda, and all the other minerals in it help make good, strong stands, too."

Middlecoff Cops Top Money in Ormond Beach Open

Palm Beach, Fla., March 16 — (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, professional golfer playing out of Ormond Beach, Fla., banked $2,750 today for his double victory in the 11th annual Seminole golf tournament.

The National Open champion finished the 54-hole event with a 7, yesterday for an aggregate of 207 to lead the field of 42 pros and take first money of $1,500 in that division.

He teamed with C. Douglas Dillon, New York stock broker, for a best ball score of 65 and tie with professional Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Leray Berdeau of Paris, France, at 125 in the 36-hole pro-amateur end of the tournament, played over the 6,355-yard Seminole club course.

Leslie Speck to Coach at Osceola

Blytheville, March 16 — (AP)—Leslie E. (Duke) Speck, state representative from Mississippi county and former head football coach at Arkansas State college, yesterday was appointed head football coach at Osceola high school to succeed Rube Boyce who resigned Tuesday.

Speck, a native of Joiner, Ark., graduated from Arkansas State and returned there as football coach in 1937, coaching three seasons. He also coached at Hoxie and previously coached at Osceola.

He retired from football after his discharge from the armed service in 1946 and for the past three years has operated an electrical appliance business in Osceola.

His appointment is effective July 1.

29 Champions Enter Women's Golf Meet

By STERLING SLAPPEY
Augusta, Ga., March 16 — (AP)—A collection of 29 champions entered the first round of the women's titleholders tournament today and only three or four golfing names which count with the gallery were missing.

The four days the best in female golf will chase after the first 1950 crown among the big three of women's open tournaments — The titleholders, Western Open and National Open.

Recent rains and cloudy hints of plenty more to come made the Augusta County club's sandy and pinny 6,619-yard course a long playing, short roll layout. Without good ball rolls even this field of stars will be pushed to produce a 72 hole score of 229 to match Peggy Kirk's record-setting work last year.

Miss Kirk, a long-legged, long-balled hitter from Findlay, Ohio, is defending her title. Other titleholder winners trying again are Babe Zaharias of Chicago, Patty Berg of Minneapolis, Louise Suggs of

Free Throws Bring Defeat to Spring Hill

Tuckerman, March 16 — (AP)—The Arkansas girls high school basketball tournament, marked by an upset at the very start, went into the second day here today.

The upset came in the first game yesterday when defending champion Marked Tree, which had been a strong choice to repeat, lost to Star City 61, to 52.

Other first round scores: Van Buren 73, Prattsville 44. Mt. Ida 69, Springhill 66. Clover Bend 45, Parkin 44. Greenbrier 60, Athens 35. Green County Tech 36, Village 30.

Two additional first round games were scheduled for today. Tuckerman met Forrest City, and Lead Hill played Hartford.

Quarterfinals Pit Star City against Van Buren; Mt. Ida against Clover ND, Greenbrier against Green County Tech, and the winners of the Tuckerman-Forrest City and AD Hill-Hartford games.

Two of yesterday's opening round games were won by the overtime period — and both by the same pattern.

The Star City — Marked Tree game ended in a 57-57 tie. Each member of both teams got one free throw to settle the deadlock. Four Star City girls made their throws.

Only one Marked Tree player could hit the basket. The situation was repeated in the Mt. Ida — Springhill game, which ended 65-65. Four Mt. Ida players sank their free shots; only one Springhill player was able to do so.

Irish Start Spring Grid Practice

South Bend, Ind., March 16 — (AP)—Notre Dame's football forces, unbeaten in 38 straight games, open spring practice tomorrow, St. Patrick's day. It's an old fighting Irish custom, and 100 sturdy lads will be on hand to observe it.

Tax Commission Appeals to Higher Court

Little Rock, March 15 — (AP) — The Arkansas Tax commission has appeared to the State Supreme court from a lower court order restricting its authority.

The commission asked the high court to reverse Chancellor Sam Garratt of Hot Springs, who enjoined the group from changing tax assessment valuations on real estate in Benton.

The commission member said the three-man body would ask the Supreme court to determine whether the 1948 act which set up the commission and gave it broad powers over tax matters is constitutional.

Gubitchev Changes Mind, to Leave U. S.

New York, March 15 — (AP) — Convicted spy Valentin A. Gubitchev today notified Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan that he will sail for Russia on Monday.

Gubitchev's attorney, Abraham L. Pomerantz, informed Judge Ryan of the jailed Russian engineer's decision.

Pomerantz' statement was a reversal of his action yesterday when he refused to drop the appeal of Gubitchev's conviction.

U. S. Attorney Irvin H. Saypol had insisted that Gubitchev waive all right of appeal of a 15-year prison sentence which was to be suspended on the condition Gubitchev go back to Russia "never to return."

Pomerantz, accompanied to court by the third secretary of the Russian embassy, Yuri Novikov, told Judge Ryan that Gubitchev would not appeal the "judgment of re-sentence."

ASCAP Agrees to Play the U. S. Way

New York, March 15 — (AP) — The big business side of American music has a new score to practice today — an arrangement written by Uncle Sam.

It was a legal variation on an old business theme of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, better known by its initials, "Ascaph."

The society works as a pool of music writers and publishers that grants performing rights and collects royalties for almost all the copyrighted music in America.

In two content decrees in federal court yesterday, Ascaph agreed to play the anti-trust division's way in the interest of harmony.

The decrees will have a wide effect on both foreign and domestic music business, but mostly in a financial way.

The main provisions of the decrees will do this:

1. Force Ascaph to cut all ties with international organizations that might lead to a monopoly of foreign music in the U. S.

2. Make Ascaph and all arrangements giving it sole control of a foreign country's music, or which require similar foreign societies to deal with Ascaph.

3. Require Ascaph to offer movie producers and television stations a single license to cover all performances of music in a film or telecast.

4. Prevent Ascaph from using movie exhibitors (theater owners) for royalties.

5. Give any commercial user of music who questions Ascaph's royalty rates a court review of them.

6. Allow any or Ascaph's 2,499 members to license his music independently or to resign from the society at any time.

These changes, which are sweeping in the fields they cover, came as a result of anti-trust and cartel suits started by the government several years ago.

High School Sex Orgies Investigated

Hammond, Ind., March 15 — (AP) — Police and juvenile authorities disclosed last night they were investigating what they described as a series of sex orgies involving four high school girls and several men.

Two young divorcees have been charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency in connection with the alleged orgies and are at liberty on bond. The four high school girls also are at liberty on bond for appearance in juvenile court on charges of delinquency.

Police said 10 men have been arrested and others may be arrested. They range in age from 19 to 32.

Police said the investigation disclosed that the girls had intimate relations with as many as a score of men. The girls range in age from 14 to 17, said Walter Hammond, juvenile probation officer. He did not disclose their names.

The investigation started, police said, after the parents of one of the high school girls asked juvenile authorities to investigate the girl's frequent unexplained absences from home. Questioning of this girl involved the other girls and the two women, Mrs. Barbara Harman, 22, and Mrs. Clarie Pucalik, 25. Harman said Mrs. Harman and Mrs. Pucalik were accused of arranging parties at Mrs. Pucalik's home. Police said the inquiry disclosed that liquor drinking at the orgies was negligible.

CAN'T READ

Cumberland, Md., March 15 — (AP) — A couple of burglars either can't read or like to pull a job the hard way.

They broke into a safe here yesterday, after hacking at the handle and finally removing the pins from the safe's door hinges.

The loot was a razor and 20 cents. On the side of the battered safe the company had painted:

"No money inside."

And beneath that — the combination.

The National Geographic Society says the Irish potato is not really a potato but a member of the nightshade family.

CREAMO ONLY MARGARINE WITH CREAM

Choice of yellow quarters or uncolored pounds

Housewives will be interested to know Creamo Margarine's popularity has grown faster in the past few years than the combined average of all other brands. This is due to the fact that Creamo is the only margarine made with cream.

In taste tests between Creamo and the most expensive type breadspreads, participating school children chose Creamo Margarine 5 to 1.

Users say Creamo's creamy-rich flavor is so distinctively delicious, the first taste is noticeably more flavorful than ordinary spreads. Not only does Creamo taste better—it's more economical, too. The extra flavor goes so much farther than ordinary spreads.

"Whaddy know, Herbert... I just heard Creamo's the only margarine made with cream" (see column at right—)
